PLANNERS ASK FOR RULING ON NURSING HOME

Is a nursing home a commercial or residential venture?

City Planners pondered this question last Thursday night and then decided to let either City Attorney Joseph Bonacina or Nestor Barrett, planning consultant settle it.

The problem came before the board when Anthony Madonia, through his attorney, applied to the building inspector, W. L. Morser, for a permit to remodel an existing house at 291 N. Los Gatos Road for use as a nursing home.

The inspector asked for a ruling from the Planning Commission as to whether the nursing home could be conducted in the M-1 zone in which it is located.

Nursing homes are not specifically classified in the Campbell zoning ordinance. Hence the problem.

In San Jose they are ruled residential, if they have six or less patients and commercial if more than that, Madonia's attorney explained. He wanted to know how to advise his client to proceed.

If deemed commercial, the nursing home can be conducted in the M-1 zone but if defined as residential the applicant must apply for a use permit, it was pointed out.

Several of the commissioners questioned whether a light manufacturing zone was the proper place for a nursing home. Commissioner J. A. Tomlinson suggested that the "quiescence factor involved" was quite important.

The commissioners thought that either Consultant Barrett or Attorney Bonacina would be in a better position to know the answer and told the applicant they should have a ruling by the next meeting.

The applicant, Madonia, operated the Lark Nursing Home in this area which is now under investigation by state authorities.

Local Youths To 'Run' State In Sacramento

Four Campbell High School youths will gain practical knowledge of how the state government is run when they attend the YMCA Youth in Government convention in Sacramento on February 23-25.

The four boys, all members of the Ace Hi-Y Club, have been chosen to high state offices and will be among the 375 Hi-Y and Tri-Y members in California who will take part in the convention.

There will be 70 senators, 90 assemblymen, 12 officers, 160 delegates-in-training and 43 Sacramento youth aides taking part in the three-day program. The students to assume legislative powers and go through the procedure of actually presenting bills.

Steve Hunter has been selected as president pro-tem of the senate. Bob Young and John Duncan will be assemblymen and Steve Dunn will be senior delegate-at-large.

The local delegation will provide half of the delegates from the San Jose YMCA. Three of the others are from Los Gatos.

On The Line in Campbell

Two long-time local businessmen,, Clarence and Milton Nelson, partners in the Nelson Grain and Supply Co., of Campbell, have earned a trip to Hawaii because of the increase in their 1955 business in Albers products over that of 1954. The brothers also won a trip to Canada last year. Pictures of the brothers and a report on their achievement appeared in a recent promotional publication of the Albers Milling Co.

McGehee wife of the former Santa Clara County Clerk. Mrs. McGehee on that supposedly unlucky day won $275 in a crossword contest that was held in Monica.

Cecil Gentry, of North Central Ave., this week was once more wearing his own raincoat and hat which he had loaned to a certain city councilman when that particular city dad worked all night during the Christmas flood. The councilman had overlooked returning the wet weather raiment until Cecil delicately (?) brought this matter to his attention by donning his wife's coat and hat and parading in front of the councilman during one of the recent showers.

Hope Noble, a silk finisher, Jerry Ryan, a wool finisher, and Lowell Benson from Benson's Cleaners on Sunday attended a school in Oakland sponsored by the California Drycleaners where new methods in cleaning were demonstrated.

Henry Jewel, a member of the Campbell Kiwanis Club, while attending the Kiwanis Midwestern Conference in Fresno last week thought he had stepped into the wrong room in the motel in which he was staying. He found it already occupied when he had returned to it. It seems the management had made a mistake and rented the room twice.

Evidence of the terrific growth of the Campbell school system was given this week by Bill Means, manager of Clark's Drugs and long time member of the elementary school district board of trustees He said that the school board now takes two full days to make the annual inspection of the schools in the district. When he first began serving on the board the inspection could be made in half a day.

Quite A Number!

Campbell moved a step nearer getting out of its confused numbering state last Thursday night when the City Planners approved the new house numbering system and referred it to the City Council for further action.

The plan, if adopted, will have Campbell Avenue as the north-south line and Winchester Road on the east-west. There will be 1000 numbers issued for each mile from these center lines, irrespective of street intersections.

The present numbering system was established by the post office department and has become confusing because of the new subdivisions and streets that have become a part of the city.

Students Spark Blood Bank Here Next Thursday

With a goal of 100 pints of blood, Campbell High School juniors and seniors are sponsoring a Blood Bank at the high school on Thursday, February 2. Residents of the community are being urged by the students to come to the school on that day in this joint cooperative project between community and school.

The journalism and retail selling classes are in charge of the publicity while Junior Red Cross members plan to carry on a telephone campaign, transport donors to and from school and also serve as baby sitters, if necessary.

Members of the Speech and Debate Club are encouraging PTA groups, local service clubs and other civic groups to give their blood next Thursday.

On what has been termed "B Day" at the school, other school groups will aid in organizing the bank itself. The Typettes Club will type information cards as donors register while Nurses of Tomorrow Club will aid the Red Cross in the actual taking of the blood. Members of the Future Homemakers Club will serve cake and coffee and Ace Hi-Y members will set up beds, cots and other equipment needed.

Co-chairmen for the drive are Steve Hunter and Carole Young with Carole Hansen, secretary. The refreshment committee is headed by FHA presidents, Carol Steinmetz and Janice Polglase. Dennis O'Flyng and Pat McClenahan head the speech groups.

First injections of polio vaccine will be discontinued at Health Department clinics after this Saturday, January 28, according to W. Elwyn Turner, M. D., Director of the Santa Clara County Health Department.

In accordance with the Federal Polio Vaccine Plan terminating on February 9, which provides for a series of two injections per child or expectant mother, all clinics during February will give second shots only.

Children six months through 14 years of age and expectant mothers yet to receive their initial injections should attend one of the Health Department clinics before Saturday stressed Dr. Turner.

Church Approves

CITY HALL MOVES ANOTHER STEP

Campbell's City Hall moved a step closer to reality this week.

On Sunday night the congregation of the Congregational Church at its annual meeting voted approval of the action of the board of trustees in accepting the lease-purchase offer of $34,000 by the city for the church property at 49 North Central avenue.

The action of the congregation on Sunday was a result of the proposal made to the trustees last week by Councilman James Arends, chairman of the city hall committee.

The city plans to convert the structure into a. city hall. The lease-purchase plan calls for payments over a three-year period, the final one to be made in 1958.

The city has $34,000 available and earmarked for the project. The proposal to take over the building is the same as was made before the recent city election in which a substantial majority of voters approved the purchase of the property and its remodeling into a city hall. The vote was short of a two-thirds majority necessary for bonds to be issued. Under the present plan surplus city funds will be used for it.

NEW HIGH RECORD

New high records were set in the fall months for attendance at both the Campbell High School and Campbell Elementary school districts according to R. Eugene Arnold, supervisor of child's welfare and attendance in the Santa Clara County school system.

The high school average attendance for Campbell High School and Camden High School was 2,467, while the ADA for the ten schools in the Campbell Elementary School district was 4930.

Local Resident Watches Rescue Aboard Carrier

Witnessing the rescue of a pilot from a burning plane was an unforgettable experience for Homer Hyde, of Campbell, who recently was a guest of the U. S. Navy on a three-day cruise aboard an aircraft carrier.

Hyde, a guest on the U. S. S. Oriskany, a Yorktown-type carrier, was on hand to watch the exciting rescue when a blazing plane landed on the deck. The Campbell resident was impressed by the swift and efficient manner in which the crew extinguished the flames and rescued the pilot.

He reported that the crew had the plane sprayed with fire extinguishing foam within five seconds and had the pilot out of it in 14 seconds. The flier was in the hospital, he said, within one minute after the plane had landed.

The ship carries both jet and propellor-driven aircraft. The ship was almost like an entire city in itself, including the airstrip, Hyde reported. Rough weather was encountered on the cruise, he said, causing 40-foot swells, sending 60-foot spray above the water.

HAMILTON AVE. PLAN GETS REPRIEVE

City Planners Thursday night had a chance to test their knowledge of arithmetic fractions learned in grammar school days when they voted 4-2 to adopt the plan to widen Hamilton Avenue to 120-feet in the future.

But because it takes a two-thirds vote of the entire 7-man membership to adopt such measures, the final decision on the controversial plan will have to wait until the next meeting when Homer Hyde, who was absent Thursday, will have a chance to vote. Five votes make the necessary two-thirds, according to all mathematical formulas.

$48,000 Savings

The plan, as presented by the city engineer's office, foresees Hamilton Avenue eventually becoming 120-feet in width from the proposed freeway turn-off and Winchester Road. A saving estimated at $48,000 to the city can be affected, the engineers revealed, if the road would make a slight "jog" which would necessitate only the moving of houses on the south side of the street. If the street was on a straight line, then 12 houses on the north side would have to be moved.

Elmer D'Angelo assistant city engineer, who presented the proposed plan to the board, declared that the "jog" of 15-feet was in no way a "death curve" and maintained that it would hardly be noticed. He said the 15-foot offset would be over a distance of 250-feet with a 1000-feet radius.

Joe Gomes, former city councilman, a property owner in the area led the opposition. He questioned the wisdom of trying to save money now, especiallly as it was for the indefinite future and it could not be determined at this time if the 120-foot road would ever be necessary. He argued that should the time ever come for such a width, it was likely that the area would be a commercial zone, so why not wait until then He added that engineers were generally trying to take curves out of roads instead of putting them in.

Walter A. Sutton and David Rutherford also spoke against the project and a number of others at the meeting indicated that they were opposed to moving houses just on one side of the street.

The commissioners were in agreement that the 120-foot road would be needed, but they were divided on the relative merits of "curve vs. no-curve" and the resulting hardship to the property owners now on the affected street. Commissioners O'Brien, Logue, Solari and Tomlinson voted for the proposed plan with Commissioners Harmon and Priestly opposed.

D'Angelo told the commission that whether the future road was curved or straight would not effect their present plans. Immediate plans call for Hamilton to become four-lanes (48-feet) with a 12-feet parking strip.

Other Actions

Other actions at the meeting: The City Planners rejected the plans for warehouses submitted by Ivan Kucich on the west side of San Jose-Los Gatos Road between Campbell and Hamilton Avenues. The plans were turned down because they were incomplete.

Kucich had twice before been denied rezoning of his property, now M-1, in order to build apartment houses and a restaurant on it. His appeal for the apartment houses is now befor the City Council for final action.

Kucich declared that he preferred to build the apartments but if not allawed to do that he would go ahead with the warehouses. Commissioner Logue said that the warehouses were unattractive and it would be necessary to "screen" them by trees but that the commission would be forced to approve the plans if they were submitted correctly because of the M-1 zoning.

Two Tracts Approved

The commission approved the Shadowbrook Tract of 39 building sites between Dutard and David Streets and First and Central Avenues subject to conditions set up by the engineering department, health department and utilities.

The Kuehnis Estate, unit 4, west of Kuehnis Drive, was also approved as a subdivision subject to conditions of zoning. The proposed area is in a multiple-family zone but the lots are only 6000 square feet, less than the minimum required for multiple nuits.

C of C Directors Vote To Sponsor Event As Cava Becomes Manager

Campbell's Chamber of Commerce dormant period came to a sudden end this week when the directors launched a two-pronged attack to revitalize the local civic organization.

At a special meeting Monday night, the directors voted: (1) to sponsor the 64th Annual Old Settlers' Day celebration on May 11-12-13, and (2) employed Sam Cava, former local businessman and past Chamber president as full-time manager of the Campbell C. of C.

By their double-barrelled action the directors answered the questions of "if and when" on the traditional Old Settlers Day (the second oldest event of its kind in the state) and, at the same time, gave notice that the local Chamber of Commerce (which under the guidance of Cava as president had set an enviable record of achievements) was once more "in business".

SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce has been called for next Tuesday by Vice President Del Lucot at 7 p. m. at Strong's Paint Co., 26 E. Campbell Ave.

The new manager's first task will be the organizing of the Old Settlers' Day. Considerable interest has been manifested during the past weeks by local residents as to whether or not the celebration was going to be held at all. Many people have indicated that they wanted it continued. But the event needed the leadership of some organization to get it off the ground. The C. of C. by their move provides the necessary leadership.

Setting the dates of May 11, 12 and 13 for the affair (actually the dates had been set last July by the Chamber) also settled a problem that has been under discussion for sometime. The event in the past was generally held on February 22. It was moved to May last year because of the uncertainty of the weather at the earlier date.

Parade Features

One of the main features of the celebration in recent years has been the parade and inclement weather in February often has proved a stumbling block. One long-time resident, Judge John D. Blaine, in a letter to The Press this week, emphasized the need of a parade to make the event successful and he also suggested that the Chamber take over the job of putting it on.

Cava, the new manager, expects to take over his new job immediately. He is well known in Campbell and throughout the entire Santa Clara Valley, coming to this area shortly after serving in World War I. For the past two years he operated the J and A Market in Campbell, selling the store this month to Peter Lico. For 35 years prior to operating the store here he was a cannery executive in this area and traveled extensively throughout the United States in that capacity.

While serving as president of the Campbell C. of C. Cava was the driving force behind last year's Old Settler's Day which was rated as one of the most successful ever presented. In addition under Cava's guidance the Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in keeping the S. P. Depot open in Campbell and also obtaining one new industry to establish here.

.... During his tenure also Campbell was represented at the Santa Clara County Fair for the first time and the city was decorated for Christmas. A Kiddie Parade was staged during the Christmas season also. The Chamber also fought for traffic safety continuously.

The six directors, who met Monday night, unanimously voted to appoint the new manager. Directors present included Ben Strong, Milton Nelson, Bob Curry, Lester Lafferty, Del Lucot and Norm Corvello.

The new manager is also a noted musical director. As a youth he was with John Philip Sousa's band, and through the years he has kept up his musical interest. He is the director for the American Legion Band, the Southern Pacific band and is chairman of music and parades for the Elks Lodge for the state of California.

Active in C. of C.

He was active in chamber of commerce work in Salinas and the Central Coast Counties serving as chairman of industry and railroads for the C. of C. in that area. He also served as chairman of music and entertainment for the Salinas Rodeo.

The manager is married to the former Christina Lepiane, a native of this area having been born near Saratoga. The couple have three married daughters living in the valley and a son, Dr. Emil Cava, who is practicing medicine in Las Vegas. Cava is now serving as treasurer of the Italian-American Civic Club of Campbell.

AN 'OLD SETTLER' EXPRESSES VIEWS

A factor that had a large part to play in the action of the Chamber of Commerce in taking over Old Settlers' Day and setting the dates for May 11-12-13 was the sentinment expressed by Judge John D. Blaine, one of Campbell's leading "old settlers", a resident of this community for 68 years.

In a letter to The Press Judge Blaine writes: "The celebration last year at a later date was a success in every way, one of the very best we ever had, with perfect weather . . . ."

". . . the celebration is a logical project for our Chamber of Commerce. It lacks vitality because it lacks projects. In giving vitality to our celebration the Chamber can help give vitality to itself".

Local Police Nab Burglar Suspects

A San Jose man and wife on Wednesday were lodged in the county jail accused of burglarizing the Cherrio Market in Campbell on December 29.

The suspects, Lawrence Osterhoff, 49, and his wife, Marie, 29, were implicated by Floyd Davis, 18, of Campbell after intensive questioning by Chief of Police Robert Locke and Officers Dick Main of Campbell.

Davis, accused of four other burglaries in the area, admitted to being in the market on the night when $240 in goods was taken. The market is located at Winchester Road and Sunnyside Street.

According to the police, the Osterhoff's five children who range in age from 22 months to 12 years were in the car outside when the burglary took place.

Local Debaters Win

Seven first place awards and two seconds were gained by members of the Campbell High School Debate Club at the Central California Speech Tournament held in Modesto on Saturday.

Sue Moester garnered two first prizes for her humorous exposition of "Tar Baby" and an Uncle Remus Story by Joel Chandler Harris.

Other winners included Everett Avila, Denni O'Flyng, Steve Dunn, Pat McClenahan, Stan Mattix and Bryan Paddock.

On Saturday, February 4, the debate club members will journey to Merced for another all-day tournament.

SARATOGA GIRL GETS $45,000 IN GUN MISHAP

An eight year old Saratoga girl and her father will receive $55,000 as damages handed down by the Santa Clara County Superior Court because of gunshot wounds the girl suffered on September 1, 1953 when Jimmie Boissernac, also eight, was playing with a rifle and it was discharged. The girl is Ann Hurtley of 13270 Pierce Road and her father is Oliver Hurtley, a commercial artist.

Doctors said the girl's injuries will prevent her from ever becoming a mother or lead a normal married life due to a smashed pelvis and the tearing of vital organs.

Louis Bonnett, 72, of 13290 Pierce Road, grandfather of the Boissernac boy was ordered by the court to pay the girl $45,000 damages and $10,000 to her father for past and future medical expenses. The jury found Bonnet negligent in allowing the gun and ammunition to be within reach of the boy.

Red Cross Sets Monday As Flood Aid Deadline

Laurance Hill, Campbell area Red Cross chairman, reported this week that rehabilitation of families stricken by the recent flood has been carried on continuously by the Red Cross. He said that January 30 has been set as the last day on which flood victimes may apply for rehabilitation aid.

Persons needing assistance are urged to call Red Cross headquarters at 440 North First Street, San Jose, or contact Chairman Hill. He stressed that assistance given to flood stricken families is given outright to the people who are entitled to the aid, and is not a loan.

Hill added that as a result of surveys by disaster specialists from national Red Cross headquarters, amount to be spent on rehabilitation in the San Jose area has been revised downward from $87,000 to $50,000, as surveys indicated damage in the entire area has not been severe as estimated.

Stanford Research On Rapid Transit System Soon Read

engaged by the San Francisco Bay Area Transit Commission to undertake the study of certain financial and organizational problems relating to the proposed rapid transit system. These problems, though closely related, are outside the scope of the engineering studies on the system which have been undertaken for the Commission. The Institute's study is due for completion by February 29, 1956.

The purpose of this research is to provide a factual basis for decisions and recommendations which the Commission may make regarding the financing and organizational structure of the rapid transit system as it has been designed. The objectives of the study are (1) to determine and compare practical methods of financing original costs, working capital, and operating deficits of the proposed rapid transit system, and (2) to prepare basic data pertaining to alternative administrative structures required to create the proposed system.

The report will present the advantages and disadvantages of a district-wide organization covering the entire area to be served by the transit system; it will compare this approach with county-by-county or city-by-city agencies integrated into an inter-urban transit system. The district form of organization will also be compared with the transit authority form in the light of experience observed in a number of metropolitan areas.

Other related subjects to be considered by Stanford Research Institute will be the possible need, the availability, and the problem of outside financial aid for the transit project; cooperative arrangements among traffic and transportation agencies; and a review of the methods followed by other metropolitan areas in dealing with financial problems of major transit problems.

LIMIT SET FOR COAST FISHING

Wardens of the California Department of Fish and Game report that there is some confusion among anglers as to the bag limits for steelhead and salmon in some of the coastal streams.

So, if and when stream conditions get back to normal again, here's a rundown on the regulations prepared by the Department's Region III office in San Francisco:

In Mendicino, Sonoma, Napa, Marin, and San Mateo counties, the limit is three steelhead trout or salmon, in the aggregate.

In Santa Cruz and Monterey counties, the limit is two steelhead or salmon. And in these two counties only, fishing is limited to three days a week—Saturdays, Sundays, and Wednesdays. The two counties are also open on holidays and on the opening and closing days of the season.

A two-fish limit prevails in Alameda, Santa Clara, and San Luis Obispo counties. Fishing is open every day of the season. The winter salmon and steelhead season closes February 29.

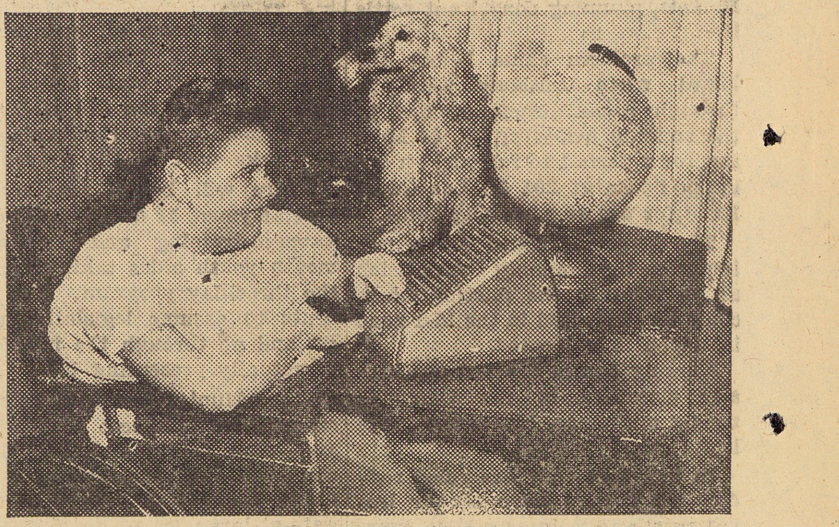
WHAT'S DOING
T. K. Nordheim, your Telephone Manager in Campbell



"Shut-ins" go to school by telephone

For many ill or handicapped children facing long confinement at home, there's a new interest in life these days. Thanks to school-to-home telephone service, they can now "attend" classes regularly. A speaker-microphone is put in the classroom and another in the home. They're connected by a private telephone line. The student at home hears everything his teacher and classmates say, and they hear him. As one youngster says: "Before, I just did my lessons at home and that was that. Now something new happens every day." The men and women of Pacific Telephone work to make your telephone more useful every day.

FAMED S. F. BLOCK TO BE DEMOLISHED

Famous Montgomery Block of San Francisco, once the financial center of the city and the tallest building on the West Coast, will be torn down to make way for a modern garage.

The famous building, which withstood the earthquake and fire of 1906, was opened to the public Dec. 23, 1853, with champagne and fireworks for all. During its construction, on what was then the waterfront of San Francisco, the buff-colored brick of which it is built had to be towed through several feet of mud on a raft.

In its heyday suites commanded fabulous prices—as much as $1000 a month during the 1850s. It housed San Francisco's famous vigilance committees, as well as the West's most important financial figures. Adolph Sutro, early-day mayor of San Francisco and mining tycoon, rented a whole series of rooms in which to store his huge collection of books.

FUSING THE NEW WITH THE OLD

We consider it important for every community to have a special annual event which it can call its very own.

To make such an affair successful it takes volunteers who are willing to devote a great deal of time and effort to it. For that reason there are many who question whether the effort expended is worth the chips. There are others who greet such activities with extreme apathy.

But we feel that the majority of people of any community take pride in an activity that is their very own. It gives them opportunity to give vent to their civic pride and every resident has a certain amount of civic pride, although it might lie dormant for a long period of time.

Basically, then, it is civic pride that provides the incentive for a successful event.

As a newcomer we welcome the opportunity to participate in Campbell's Old Settlers' Day.

From what we have learned, Campbell should take special pride in this event, for it is the second oldest celebration in the state of California.

That alone should make its continuance throughout the years almost a necessity. But there is a great deal more, we think, to be gained from it than just that it has been going a long time.

It provides a chance for newcomers like ourourselves (and there must be a lot of us when one observes all the subdivisions in town) to meet the oldtimers. It is an excellent opportunity for both groups to compare notes and establish a Campbell mutual admiration society.

In this day and age of the ever-changing and ever-growing areas in California, it is our opinion that no other special event offers such an opportunity of fusing the new with the old on a common ground.

THE EVER-CHANGING MAP

The formation just a few weeks ago of California's newest city, the City of Fremont, was sparked mainly by the annexation plans of its neighbor, Hayward ,a thriving, bustling city that is bursting its boundaries.

To form the new city, voters of five small towns. Centerville, Niles, Mission San Jose and Warm Springs, decided to merge and incorporate. Although its population is estimated at only 20,000, Fremont, with 96 square miles, becomes the state's third largest city in area, smaller only than Los Angeles and San Diego, and twice as large as neighboring Oakland.

We think the formation of this new city provides those of us who live in Campbell with a great deal to think about.

In the case of Fremont, residents of five small towns felt it was to their advantage to forego their individual home-town prides and band together in face of encroachment by the larger cities. This represents a distinct change in thinking from the past.

All of us who grew up in small communities can recall how jealous we were of our little cross-roads. and how we resented any movement to eliminate our individuality as communities.

But that was before the enormous population growth in California. The suddenness with which huge new subdivisions have changed the character of rural and suburban areas has become an important factor in California living today.

Big cities continue to do everything within their means to gain territory, community pride of the areas they are taking in notwithstanding.

Many people do not want to become a part of a huge city, but in many cases they cannot do much about it.

Community pride has always been an important element in our democracy. It is a sad situation today, in our opinion, to see many villages being devoured and the community pride of the small towns disappearing down the throats of the large metropolises.

We are fortunate in that respect in Campbell, for we can foster our community pride, carry on with the traditions of the past and still be assured that we are protected to a great degree from encroachments in the future, because we are incorporated.

But we must continue to be alert and watchful if we do not want to be lost in the ever-increasing problems of map-changing that face this area today.

CAMPBELL STEPS OUT

As a brand-new newcomer we were impressed on Monday night by the speedy action of the directors of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce who in one evening's work got off to the right start for the year 1956.

The directors realized that something had to be done and they did it. We think the appointment from Sam Cava as full-time Chamber manager was an excellent choice, for we have managed since the announcement to learn a great deal about his background.

We also are pleased that the C. of C. decided to sponsor Old Settlers Day and definitely set the dates for May 11-12-13.

Although some people may have preferred other dates, we think it is commendable that the C. of C. has shown the leadership that was necessary in this case to get the ball rolling.

Indeed, Campbell has steped out.

The Campbell Gambol

THE OPEN ROAD Would lead to few new places in California for me and with weather conditions so bad there is not much use wasting time getting to places that are less comfortable and inviting than one's own home town . . . people can be different about the state even as the climate . . . along the northern coastline, there are rugged lumbermen and seamen who go about their work and satisfy their recreation with Saturday night dances, while in the great valleys the interest is in ranching, with Farm Bureau, Grange and other meetings being important, the mountain people have livestock and sportsmen interests while Southern California seems in a world of their own and this part of the Bay area is self-sufficient with interests . . . when I get far enough away and tell people that my home is in Campbell, a lot of them say they have heard of the place because it must be where the soups come from, and then I have to explain it is in the center of the prune growing industry of the Santa Clara Valley and that the city was founded by old Benjamin Campbell who had little or nothing to do with soup making, rather, the Ainsley Corporation and Hunt's Cannery did some pioneering in the fruit cannery work here.

REMINDS ME Too of the trip I made a few years back to Victoria and was staying in one of the small but comfortable hotels where bed and breakfast were featured and there was a little lady who would enter the dining room like a zephyr with head erect followed by two sisters who were twins and from Calgary . . . seated with them at the table was another couple who were very aloof and uncommunicative and who after about three days of it, I tried to crash the barrier after noting this couple had a car with a California license, so when I encountered the gentleman in the hallway, I extended greetings as a fellow Californian, and got back a gruff "hum-ph" and a sharp nod . . . that night at the table, still smarting from the snub, he suddenly got up and came over to ask, "What part of California" and when I told him San Carlos, he gave another "hum-ph" and returned to his table . . . after the meal, his wife spoke to me in the lobby saying they were here from Carmel, and doing a bit of fishing and roughing, you know . . said her husband was an English Admiral just retired from months of warfare along the African coast (this was just after World War II) and that he had been in charge of operations at one of the important battles, and that the Admiral would like to talk if care was taken not to bring up the subject of warfare, and they both proved to be very charming, although I sometimes think she was spoofing me, when she asked if San Carlos was anywhere near "San Joann" the admiral cutting in to say, "you mean San Yo-han-the J is pronounced like a Y" so I supposed what they were inquiring about was San Juan, so I related that San Carlos was quite a distance from any place of that name, my city having been the point of discovery in 1672 of the San Francisco bay by the Portola party and was named San Carlos after Carlos II, who then was king of Spain, the land being claimed by Spain and later taken over by Mexico . . . "Oh, yes" she said "San Carlos I know about the place . . . it is where they have the bull fights and all that sort of thing" and I had to advise that nothing as exciting as bull fights are held in the area, although some of the city council meetings square off for exciting evenings . . . the admiral and his wife were a charming couple, much travelled, much read and very interesting, and if it hadn't been for my having California license plates too, I might never have gotten more than a "hum-ph" from him.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor Campbell Press:

About Old Settlers' Day: Since I have lived in this community 68 years and since my late wife was a granddaughter of Benjamin Campbell, founder of our town and since my son, Franklin Blain and my grandson, Richard Blaine are the only persons in Campbell of the original Campbell blood and since our "Aunt Jessie" Campbell, widow of the late Henry Campbell, is the only person in Campbell of the original Campbell name—since all these things I might have about as strong a sentimental interest in Old Settlers' Day in its original form as any body.

It happens that for a variety of reasons I have not. I know that in the more than half century of the celebrations without parades they have repeatedly almost died a natural death. It is no accident that the only older celebration in our state is chiefly an elaborate parade. I believe that only an annual parade will keep our celebration going. The old celebrations that did not have parades have died. Saratoga Blossom Festival is an example.

As for February 22 as such, it is less and less observed as a holiday. In general schools do not close, nor do stores close.

If we are to have a parade, my sympathies are with the groups, especially the children, that make elaborate preparations to march and with the thousands who hope to watch. For them the bad weather naturally to be expected—and even hoped for in the rainy season—would be a calamity.

The celebration last year at a later date was a success in every way, one of the very best we ever had, with perfect weather.

Finally, the celebration is a logical project for our much-criticized Chamber of Commerce. It lacks vitality precisely because it lack projects. In giving vitality to our celebration the Chamber can help give vitality to itself.

POLIO DRIVE ENTERS LAST LAP

Mothers To Stage Polio March On Tuesday Evening

The annual Mothers' March on Polio in Campbell, the traditional finale of the March of Dimes, scheduled for next Tuesday evening, will be directed by a "captain" in each of the school areas of the Campbell district. An appeal is being made to local residents to help make the 1956 battle the "biggest in history".

Funds raised during the Mothers' March will be used to help polio patients in their fight against the after effects of the disease.

During the "March" home owners wishing to contribute to the polio fight are asked to turn on their porch lights or by leaving lighted candle or lamp in the window. For apartment dwellers, the signal will be a handkerchief or a bit of ribbon tied to the door knob.

Campbell citizens contributed $2,975.03 to the Mothers' March during their "porch light parade" last year.

TONY LoBUE HEADS H.S. POLIO DRIVE

Tony LoBue, student body president at Campbell High School, has been elected representative for all west side high schools during the 1956 polio crusade, with Sam Reed, principal at Campbell High School as adviser.

Hi-Y girls at the high school have also been conducting a street collection campaign in Campbell on Saturdays.

Campbell Explorer Troop No. 28, under leadership of Ken Robison, is in charge of distributing and collecting "dimes" receptacles in local stores and public places.

POET TO SPEAK

Louis Untermeyer, world-famous poet and author, will speak on "What Americans Read and Why" under sponsorship of the Sunday Evening Community Forum at the First Methodist Church Fifth and Santa Clara Streets San Jose at 7:30 P. M. on January 29.

SENATOR TO SPEAK

U. S. Senator Clifford P. Case of New Jersey will be the speaker at the annual Lincoln Dinner of the Republican County Central Committee, according to Robert G Free, chairman. The dinner will take place Monday, February 13 in the Hawaiian Gardens in San Jose.

Chairman Issues Last-Minute Call In Dimes Drive

An urgent, last-minute appeal to all residents of Campbell to send in their March of Dimes mail contributions immedately was issued this week by Robert Simmons, General chairman of this area's annual fight against the dread disease of polio.

"Many people apparently feel that polio, because of the Salk vaccine, is no longer a threat to our way of life," said Simmons. "With approximately 70,000 polio patients in the United States still dependent on the March of Dimes for their very life giving breathing devices, braces, wheel chairs and crutches, 176 of whom are our neighbors in Santa Clara County, polio isn't licked yet."

Last Friday's second report luncheon of the current campaign which has an overall county goal of $150,000, accounted for a total thus far of $28,991.71, $302.30 of which was accredited to the citizens of Campbell.

Thus far in the campaign total of 6.008 envelopes have returned contributions totaling $13 082.43. Of this number 74 with Campbell postmarks have been responsible for $173.10.

Tuesday, January 31, is the deadlnie for filing California Unemployment Insurance wage reports and contribution returns for the fourth quarter of 1955 Thomas C. Clark, 96 Santa Teres

HOW TO INCREASE CALIFORNIA'S RECOVERABLE OIL RESERVES

We believe every citizen and taxpayer has a personal stake in the Oil and Gas Conservation Initiative

A huge increase in California's recoverable oil reserves will result from an oil conservation measure for which title has been approved by the Attorney General.

Prohibits Waste of a Vital California Resource

This initiative differs sharply from other oil measures brought before the public in the past. It does not permit market demand curtailment and proration. It is designed solely to give the oil industry legal tools, to match its know-how, to carry out production practices necessary to enable the industry to be good stewards of California's oil reserves.

Insures continued high employment

It will enable a majority of the operators in a field to bring about practices which will prolong immeasurably the lives of fields in which they are employed, insure continuing employment to those in the industry far beyond present expectations, and provide a strong bulwark for the cornerstone represented by oil production that underlies California's whole economy.

Oil means three billion dollars in pocketbooks of Californians

The public welfare involved in good oil conservation is indicated by the fact that in 1954 the various petroleum products derived from California oil production added about three billion dollars of new wealth to the State.

For two years Richfield has conducted a public information program about oil.

As a public service and in our own self-interest, we have been telling the people of California how tremendous quantities of recoverable oil are being wasted by being left unrecovered in the ground.

Richfield engineers have told meetings of women's groups, community leaders and conservation groups how the physical waste of oil could be prevented, and the size of the public's stake in good oil conservation practices.

These meetings have always ended with strong expressions of support for action that would protect the public interest in this vital natural resource.

Public has demanded this constructive action

It is because of the very favorable public response to the information program that we decided to sponsor an initiative measure for an oil conservation law and bring the matter directly before the people.

Not enough new pools are being discovered in California to keep oil production equal to ever-increasing demand. We are now sending dollars abroad for the purchase of oil—dollars that would otherwise be circulated among our own people in payment for goods and services of all kinds.

Initiative provides only sure way to keep California's oil prosperity

There is one sure way to increase California's reserves of recoverable oil and thus assure California of continued prosperity. That way is unit operation in as many oil pools as possible. California producers need the law to facilitate unitization.

My associate, R. W. Ragland, and I are the sole sponsors of the initiative petition. But discussions which we have had recently with other oil people indicate that a majority of the industry will support the proposal.

We expect the measure to qualify for the general election ballot, November 6, 1956.

Meet the Moraghans who set up housekeeping in San Francisco in 1936

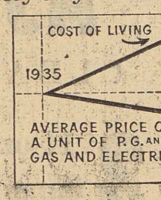
20 YEARS AGO—when Charles and Jane Moraghan were married, they had just seven appliances in their first home: refrigerator, coffee maker, toaster, waffle iron, radio, mixer, electric clock.

TODAY—the Moraghans and their pretty daughters, Louise and Amy, have 29 appliances in their spacious home: range, refrigerator, freezer, washer and dryer, dishwasher, garbage disposer, rotisserie, waffle iron, toaster, coffee maker, blender, mixer, two irons, hair drier, television, four radios, two phonographs, sewing machine, vacuum cleaner, two electric clocks, furnace and water heater.

Today they buy $23 worth of gas and electricity for $16

...for the average unit cost is about ⅓ less than it was in 1936

Here in California, the average family uses three times as much gas and electricity today as twenty years ago. And chances are you're using more gas and electricity as you add more and more modern appliances and better lighting to your home. Naturally, when you use three times as much, your bill is bound to be higher. But it's far lower than it would have been twenty years ago! That's because P. G. and E. now charges about ⅓ less per unit of gas and electricity, on the average, than it did in 1936. Take the Moraghans: a month or so ago, their bill came to $16. Back in '36, the same amount of gas and electricity would have cost them $22.75! And your bills probably show similar savings. Can you think of anything else that costs you less today than 20 years ago? No wonder we say . . .



Gas and Electricity are cheap in California!

BUCS TANGLE WITH FREMONT

By Steve Dunn

Wrestlers and basketballers of Campbell High are slated to take on the Fremont Indians from Fremont tomorrow, January 27 at Fremont.

The local A and B dribblers have their work cut out for them. Fremont is currently in a three way battle with Santa Clara and Mountain View for SCVAL title honors and therefore should be rough. In the Indian's last game, they showed they were on the warpath by scalping James Lick, 71-50.

Earlier in the year, the Bucs met Fremont in the All-City tournament held at James Lick. The outcome of this encounter was a 46-30 victory for the Indians of Fremont. However, the coach of the Buc hoopsters, Bert Robinson, reports that he is pleased with the boys' performance against Los Gatos and that he expects the upcoming Fremont-Campbell contest to be closer than the previous one. There is always the chance that the Bucs, fresh from dumping Los Gatos, may upset the Indians.

Fremont is also a contender for SCVAL wrestling honors. However, the Bucs should be a little too strong for the Indians, when the two outfits meet tomorrow. The Campbell varsity wrestling squad has won seven out of its eight meets, the last five in a row.

Fremont is not far behind in strength and should make this meet, which is one of the most important of the year, a close and hard fought affair. Buc coach Ken Duddridge, when asked about the upcoming struggle, stated noncommittally, "We hope to win."

Varsity Cagers Dump Los Gatos By 34-25 Count

Campbell High varsity basketball squad played host to the Los Gatos Wildcats last Friday by banging a 34-25 loss on the 'Cats before an excited, partisan crowd of Buc rooters. The victory evened the league record of the Bucs at one win and one loss. The victory was doubly sweet for the local cagers, because it came at the expense of the Buc's greatest rival, Los Gatos and the 'Cats were heavy favorites to win.

The Buc lightweights did not fare as well, taking a 39-35 loss. Their downfall was Chuck Ransome of the visitors, who rolled up 19 points. For the hometowners Ron Rowe, Mickey Filing and Don Kitajima led the scoring with 10, 9, and 8 points, respectively.

It was a different story in the varsity contest. The Bucs made a great team effort in this one, as eight different players added to the Campbell scoring. The high scorer of the home squad was Jim Williams, who accounted for seven digits. Herb Daw of the visitors took high point honors with 11 markers.

The Buc defense was never sharper than in this tussel. The Los Gatos offense was completely horse-collared, as only three 'Cat dribblers could break into the scoring column. The visitors were held to a miserable 2 points in both the second and fourth quarters.

BUC MATMEN KEEP ROLLING

Traveling to both Santa Cruz and Los Gatos last week didn't phase the Campbell High varsity wrestlers. In both cases the Bucs emerged the winners by one-sided scores.

Matched against the Cardinals of Santa Cruz in a non-league meet on January 17, the Bucs made quick work of their opponents by a 37-11 count. The wrestlers of coach Ken Duddridge ran up a total of 22 points before the Cardinals broke into the scoring column. Three matches later, the meet score stood at 22-11; however, at this point Santa Cruz was through for the day.

Dave Nevis, Tony Garza, Dallas Sutton, and Rober Lukehart led the Bucs as they all pinned their opponents. Incidentally, Dave Nevis is only a Freshman. Probably the most exciting of the day's matches was a bout between Lee Yamada of Campbell and George De Luoa of Santa Cruz. Lee, who wrestles in the 133 lb. class, executed an escape in the third and final period of the match to win the contest by a 1-0 count.

Against Los Gatos, a league opponent, the Bucs also rolled, earning a 32-10 victory last Friday. The Bucs took all but two of the twelve matches which comprised the meet; however, they failed to amass a great score, because in only one tussle did a Buc pin his opponent to earn five points. That Buc was Fred Stroppa, wrestling in the 120 lb. class.

Kiwanians Hear Of Blood Bank

Jerry Sutton, Campbell high school student, spoke to Kiwanis Club members at their meeting last Tuesday, stressing the need for blood donors to build up an adequate supply in the blood bank against times of disaster.

Jerry, along with other Campbell and Camden High school students, is conducting the drive for blood donors next Thursday when the Red Cross mobile unit will be at the high school.

John Lyndon, program chairman, introduced Brig. Gen. Wm. J. McHarg of the Salvation Army, who spoke to the group of the services performed by that organization, stating that $6,500,000 is spent annually in the 11 western states in rehabilitation work, stressing that the amount is mainly spent on services and that a relatively small percentage is used for salaries.

Camden Cagers Win

Hillsdale proved no competition for the varsity of Camden High Tuesday afternoon when Camden chalked up its sixth victory of the season by a 41-14 score.

Greg Rocha led the Camden scorers with 16 digits and Mel Profit sank 8. Hillsdale scored a 30-27 win over the Cougars in the preliminary contest. Jerry Cassingham dropped in 12 points for Camden in this battle.

Campbell Wins Again

Campbell High and Menlo-Atherton broke even in the two cage contests played Tuesday in the local gym. The Buc varsity won 38-32 while the visitors squeezed by in the B tilt 45-42.

In the varsity encounter Jim Williams tallied 16 points to help the local cause. On the other hand, Campbell's Don Kitajima sank 17 points in the B game but Menlo-Atherton still managed to win.

CITY PLANNERS PROTEST NURSERY

Campbell Planning Commissioners officially have notified the County Planning Commission that the local board objects to the issuance of a permit for a zone exception to alow a garden supply nursery to be built on the southwest corner of El Solyo Avenue and San Jose-Los Gatos Road.

The area is now zoned R-1 and would have to be changed to C-1 The local board claims that such a change would not be in keeping with the long-range planning program for this area. The area in question is just south of the city limits of Campbell.

Mrs. Anna J. Allen by letter has requested the Planning Commission for permission to rezone her property at 43 S. Second Ave., from R-1 to R-2 so that she can remodel the house into a multiple family use. The matter will be brought before the commission at its next meeting.

DENY SERVICE STATION

Reversing a County Planning Commission decision, the Board of Supervisors on Monday denied the commercial rezoning for a service station at White Oaks Avenue and San Jose-Los Gatos Road. Resident of the area had protested the rezoning, complaining that a service station at the intersection would traffic hazards.
